Movado

Josep Llusà

Movado is a program of work chair, designed for versatile and comfortable work environments, and specifically for offices and organizations. It offers a large flexibility of options with different versions of finishes. Allows lumbar adjustment, variable seat depth and height, the arm is adjustable in four dimensions as well as the resting synchronized between back and seat.

The structure of seat and backrest with double curvature in all its variants, ensures ergonomically correct position in the search for maximum comfort.

Enea has incorporated the fixed armrests to provide global solutions to specific needs and for meeting tables, executive offices, etc., completing the various features.

Movado is the perfect balance between the six key requirements that is required to the current office chairs: ergonomics, regulation, aesthetic options, multifunction and price.
