Eina Josep Llusà

The chair Eina well proportioned and with slightly wavy forms on its backrest is a timeless aesthetics, indifferent to trends. Its apparent simplicity is the result of a careful process of study design and ergonomics.

The seat and backrest can be made in injected polypropylene with a wide range of colours. Found in different versions (4 legs, wheels, barstool and bench) finishes (lacquer, chrome, polypropylene, wood and upholstered) as well as different colours for the finishes.

Eina is intended primarily for use in contract spaces, and three are the features that make easy their use its use in those spaces: they are linkable through a fixed connection to the arms, the possibility of incorporating a writing tablet made of synthetic material and are stackable in all versions. Thus, we can find it in classrooms, conference rooms, auditoriums, waiting rooms, among others.

In the manufacture of Eina are used resistant, durable and recyclable materials ensuring excellent quality. In addition, its mounting system allows easy maintenance.
