Oh!

Gabriel Teixidó

OH! is a multifunctional module system created by Enea in collaboration with Gabriel Teixidó and designed to meet a wide range of different spaces, from public areas such as waiting rooms, meeting facilities to domestic spaces as kitchens, halls or dining rooms and stands out as a very customizable with its different variations and to bring always a touch of creativity and ease to its simplicity and aesthetic appeal.

Is composed of two identical pieces of plastic mounted on a painted or chromed metal frame which at the same time can be fixed (sledge foot) or swivel (three feet).

The shell is in injected plastic and surprises by its incredible geometry which makes once assembled, the two parts of the chair look different. It can be ordered in a very wide range of colours and combinations, upholstered or without upholstery, or leather, as the occasions demands, allowing a high flexibility of the seat/backrest finishes with optional polypropylene or upholstered finish.

While customization is given by different finish options: 10 variants of polypropylene, 10 lakes and 580 structure definition of upholstery options.
