

Lottus High / Projects

Lievore Altherr Molina

Lottus High is an evolution of the program Lottus designed by Lievore Altherr Molina.

It is a high-backed seat which has been specially designed for collective facilities or home office spaces where the ergonomics of the chair is one of the important elements in the election of a seat.

To cover the wide range of spaces, Lottus High is available in different finishes (lacquer, chrome, stainless steel, polypropylene, full or partial upholstered) as well as in the following variants (4 legs, spin, wheels, with or without arms and bench)

The chairs can be linked to each other through a connection system attached to the bottom of the shell, and if required, can incorporate a writing tablet.
