Gabriel Teixidó

Barcelona 1947

Gabriel Teixidó, industrial designer. He began his professional activity in 1970 devoting his time exclusively to product creation. Concerned by the social and business repercussions of design, he has an easy-going, open character, like his designs.

He has collaborated with important companies mainly from the office furniture and lighting sector, but also in other areas.

Lecturer at the EINA School from 1999 to 2002, he has received many different awards for his career and his products.
